A first impression

Nestled in the typical hilly landscape around Lake Garda slumbers this jewel, which is currently being completely renovated and refurbished. The property is completely surrounded by a stone wall with ivy growth. High eucalyptus bushes give a lot of privacy and provide pleasant shade on hot days. A large pine tree as well as oleander and rose bushes decorate the Mediterranean garden. Through the electric gate you enter the driveway and courtyard area. From here you capture the historic building with its pretty blue shutters and wooden ornaments. Typical of these historic farms is the outdoor seating under a wooden staircase with massive old wooden beams. A charming corner with enough space to place a large dining table. A small apartment adjoins here and the wooden staircase leads to the floor above with two small living units. One to the left and one to the right. The so-called main house (piano terra-rialzato) has a rustic living area. In its center is the large open fireplace. To the right of it there is a parlor (room) which has been lined with wood and also has an open fireplace. Adjacent to the central living room is also the spacious eat-in kitchen. This is currently not furnished and without kitchen equipment. The hallway leads to the bathroom and laundry room. In this hallway there is another entrance, so from here you can also reach the apartment above separately from the central large living area. Currently, both units are connected to each other. The apartment above offers four rooms and a bathroom. In the south-eastern part there is a spacious first floor apartment (piano seminterrato) with direct exit to the garden. In front of it there is a covered outdoor seating area and an open wood-burning barbecue. The south-eastern garden area is lined by the tall eucalyptus bushes. Here, too, there is a covered outdoor sitting area with a wood-burning grill. The exit to the garden of the first floor apartment is overgrown in summer by a wisteria, which shines colorfully.

Details of amenities

The building has a total of 6 apartments and can be marketed as a boutique apartment rental, as well as used privately.

Currently, all bathrooms are redone, the electrics in the house are brought up to date and the heating is renewed. The windows were already replaced about 10 years ago and are double glazed. The floors will all have new parquet flooring. The door frames and doors will be reworked by a specialist, so that the nostalgic charm is again emphasized and preserved. The color scheme is harmonious with the linen blue shutters and the provincial charm is reflected in all living spaces.

The sunny north-western part of the garden offers plenty of greenery on two terraces. A gazebo would be perfect here to create more reading and relaxing areas.

Small details like fountains, old stone steps and wood stoves make the property a lovely place with lots of potential.

The mature garden offers lovely areas and retreats throughout. The energies are very good and you feel the peace on the property from the first moment. You feel safe and the secluded corners invite you to lie comfortably in a deck chair to read a good book.

For the summer months, the beautiful round natural stone pool offers swimming fun for the whole family. An outdoor shower lined with mosaic tiles is incorporated into this part of the garden. The wooden edging of the pool has been completely renewed and is in perfect condition.
